Identifying Your Cart

From Left: Club Car DS, E-Z-Go TXT, Yamaha Drive

It's very important to know the model & year of your cart when ordering accessories and parts. Use the information below to help identify your cart. Have questions? Contact our sales staff.

IDENTIFYING E-Z-GO MODEL & YEAR

Marathon (1975-1993):
Two-piece back rest & metal body. Serial #/Code can be found under glove box on passenger side.

Medalist (1993-1999):
One-piece back rest & metal body. Serial #/Code can be found under glove box on passenger side (94-01) or in cross-member beneath access panel or below the charger receptacle/choke knob (01+).

TXT (1996 & Up):
One-piece back rest & plastic body. Serial #/Code can be found under glove box on passenger side (94-01) or in cross-member beneath access panel or below the charger receptacle/choke knob (01+).

RXV (2008 & Up):
One-piece back rest & plastic body. Serial #/Code can be found on steering column, frame under front splash shield (driver side) or side frame rail at rear of vehicle (passenger side).

IDENTIFYING CLUB CAR MODEL & YEAR

DS (1981-2000.5):
Two-piece back rest, silver/aluminum top supports and a roof without handles.

DS (2000.5 & Up):
One-piece back rest, black top supports and a roof with handles.

Precedent (2004-08.5):
One-piece back rest, rounded body front, headlight in bumper bar. Run/Tow Switch is located in center of batteries under seat.

Precedent (2008.5 & Up): One-piece back rest, rounded body front, headlight in bumper bar. Run/Tow Switch is located at rear of battery bucket under seats.

Club Car DS serial numbers are located at the lower edge of the dashboard. Club Car Precedent serial numbers are located inside the passenger glove box. The first two numbers in the serial number are the model year of the cart. For example, serial #PQ0604-123456 is a 2006 model year cart.

IDENTIFYING YAMAHA MODEL & YEAR

Yamaha models can be identified by their serial number code, which begins with the letter "J". Depending upon the model, serial numbers can be found stamped in the frame, under the seats or inside the glove box compartment. Once you find the serial use the chart below to ID your model. (Serial number is not on engine.)

G1: J10, J14, J17, J22, J24, J26, J31, J36
G2: JA2, JE2, J38, J41, J55, J56
G3: J42, J46
G5: J50, J51
G8: JF2, JF3
G9: JG5, JG6, JH7
G11: JJ3, JR3
G14: JN3, JN4
G16: JN6, JN8
G19: JR1
G20: JR8
G21: JR6
G22: JU0, JU2
G23: JU5, JU6
G27: JU7, JU8
G28: JU9
Drive: JW1, JW2, JW9

IS YOUR CART 36V OR 48V?

Simply access your cart's battery compartment and count the number of water fill holes on the batteries and multiple the total by two. If you have 18 fill holes your cart is 36V; 24 fill holes indicates 48V.

How to Read Wheel Offsets

Wheel offset is the measured distance between the hub mounting surface and the center line of the rim.

Wheels are usually stamped with their offset using the German prefix “ET”, meaning “Einpresstiefe” or, literally, “press depth”. This number is typically given in Millimeters (mm). An example would be “ET45” for a 45mm offset.

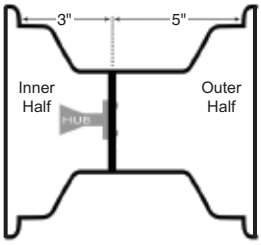
The offset can also be given in inches and is typically expressed with numbers like “3+4”. The first number refers to the distance from the inner wheel half to the hub mounting surface while the second number refers to the distance from the hub mounting surface to the outside wheel half.

A positive offset occurs when the hub mounting surface is on the street side (the side you see) of the center line of the rim. Most factory rims will have this type of offset.

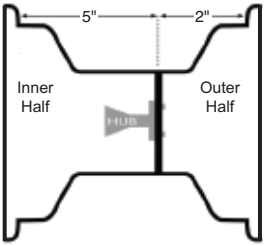
When the hub mounting surface is “centered” within the rim, it is known as a zero offset.

If the hub mounting surface is on the brake side of the center line of the rim, it is considered a negative offset or “deep dish”.

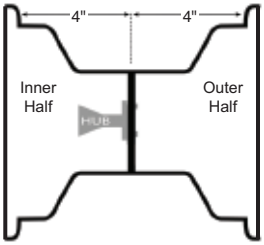
Below are some examples of how to read offsets:



Example 1:
8" wide wheel
3+5 offset



Example 2:
7" wide wheel
5+2 offset



Example 3:
8" wide wheel
4+4 offset

SIZING EXAMPLES
-15mm = -0.61024 inches	-22mm = -0.86614 inches	-25mm = -0.98425 inches	-35mm = -1.378 inches	-47mm = -1.8504 inches	3+4 offset = 3" inner + 4" outer

Digital Dashboard Speedometer

Programmable speedometer provides important information for electronic and gas vehicles.

ACC-0200 . . . . . 300.00

Most golf carts and other small task vehicles are ill-equipped to provide users with important information about speed, range, distance and more.

The Ex-Ray from Alltrax is a digital speedometer featuring:

- Average and max speed
- New Battery Voltage Readout for 12, 24, 36 and 48V electric carts or altenator battery health on gas carts
- Programmable maintenance reminders
- Ride time and total accumulated ride time
- LED warning lights and auto On/Off
- Air and motor temperature displays
- Waterproof connections and more
